

Contents

Preface	vi
Methodology & Scope and terms of reference	vii
Aims & Limitations	viii
Exercises	ix
Chapter summary.....	x
Case studies	xii
Acknowledgments	xiv

Chapter 1: Corruption fundamentals 1

1.1 Historic perspectives	2
1.2 Main factors influencing corruption	3
1.3 Anti-corruption resources	8
1.4 Methods of assessing corruption	11
1.5 LDCs, developing and developed countries	15

Chapter 2: Assessing corruption 23

2.1 Size and nature of corruption	24
2.2 National and transnational corruption	27
2.3 Black/dark/shadow economies.....	28
2.4 Panama, Paradise and Pandora papers	32
2.5 Corruption and the internet	34
2.6 Monetary and non-monetary corruption	36

Chapter 3: Individual, societal, and corporate values 41

3.1 Individual values	44
3.2 Societal values	48
3.3 Motivation to act	49
3.4 Thresholds of acceptance	52
3.5 Corruption in an organization	54
3.6 Levels of corruption in an organization	55
3.7 Dealing with overwhelming corruption	57

Chapter 4: Forms of corruption in construction 59

4.1 Fraudulent acts	61
4.2 Forms of bribery	63
4.3 Extortionary acts	66
4.4 Collusive acts	69
4.5 Discriminatory acts	71
4.6 Unclassified acts	72
4.7 Cyber risks in construction	75

Chapter 5: Construction sector corruption	77
5.1 Types of construction industry corruption	80
5.2 Reasons for involvement	81
5.3 Roles of parties involved	82
5.4 Influence of project type	90
5.5 Perpetrators of corruption	93
Chapter 6: Public sector corruption	97
6.1 Laws preventing corruption	99
6.2 Politicians and public servants	102
6.3 Public sector construction projects	107
6.4 Steps to address public sector corruption	111
Chapter 7: Private sector corruption	115
7.1 Limited controls over private-to-private corruption	116
7.2 Roles and responsibilities	118
7.3 Institutional and organized crime	119
Chapter 8: Corruption on construction sites	125
8.1 Substandard construction	126
8.2 Roads, airports, and industrial paving	130
8.3 Water supplies, drainage and sewerage	135
8.4 Building foundations	138
8.5 Building structures	140
8.6 Soil liquefaction	142
8.7 Retaining walls and ground anchors	143
8.8 Machinery, plant, equipment, piping and ducting	146
8.9 Facades and curtain walls	148
Chapter 9: Avoiding corrupt contracts	155
9.1 Transparency	157
9.2 Lack of transparency	159
9.3 Post contract award	162
9.4 Mistakes that lead to corruption	164
9.5 Driving down construction standards	165
Chapter 10: Avoiding participation in corruption	173
10.1 Corruption risk and preventative measures	174
10.2 Levels of accountability	180
10.3 Accounting and project management	187
10.4 Contractors and sub-contractors	190
10.5 Overstating claims and variations	195
10.6 Manipulating scope of work	196
10.7 Over-purchasing and returning goods	197

Chapter 11: Anti-corruption policy	199
11.1 Anti-corruption policy documents	201
11.2 Important features	201
11.3 Management responsibilities	204
11.4 Professional ethics	205
11.5 Integrity Pacts.....	209
11.6 Rotating staff, contractor, supplier	210
11.7 Compliance reporting and whistle-blowers.....	211
Chapter 12: Realities in tackling corruption	213
12.1 Eliminating organizational corruption	214
12.2 Board-level systems and oversight	216
12.3 Managing at the project level	219
12.4 When corrupt contracting is a matter of survival	223
12.5 Tax havens, shelf companies and trust realities.....	226
12.6 International project risks	227
Chapter 13: Whistle-blowing	231
13.1 Overview of whistle-blowing.....	233
13.2 Reporting policy	237
13.3 How to get help	238
13.4 Internal disclosure	241
13.5 External disclosure	242
Chapter 14: International anti-corruption initiatives	247
14.1 U4 Anti-Corruption Resource Centre study	249
14.2 UNGC: Collective Action	252
14.3 FACTI report on global corruption	253
14.4 Financial Action Task Force (FATF)	256
14.5 ISO 37001-2016 Anti-Bribery Management System	258
14.6 Anti-corruption resources	259
Chapter 15: Future directions	267
15.1 Consider legacy issues in construction	268
15.2 How global technologies will help	270
15.3 Near-term technologies in construction	272
15.4 Combining approaches to reduce corruption	275
15.5 Changing the construction narrative	277
15.6 Social movement	283
Conclusion	289
Glossary	290
Appendix A: International organizations.....	294
Appendix B: National organizations	295
Index.....	298